About me: I am a creator in a broad sense, interested in improving and designing modern and flawless user interfaces. Passionate about innovation, I test myself everyday in different fields, providing the best possible experiences to users, visitors and players.

● WORK EXPERIENCE

2008 – CURRENT – Italy

PHOTOGRAPHER – Freelance

Ex member of ASA25 Photographic Club (Vittoria) with some collective exhibitions: Vittoria Jazz Festival (2 times) and Fiera Emaia; A collective exhibition as result of a national contest by Imago Photography Club (Pisa).

Mainly as a hobby (natural photography, portraits, street photography) but from time to time some clients asked me to shoot some photos while working on their brands.

2009 – CURRENT – Italy

GRAPHIC DESIGNER – Freelance

In the last years I created plenty of logos, posters, stickers, t-shirts, edited many photos and videos.

They were works for clients, friends, student associations, my personal projects and others.

2012 – CURRENT – Italy

WEB DEVELOPER – Freelance

I started building my personal website from scratch I ended up creating a custom bare CMS with themes. Later on any project I created or in which I took part had a custom website, for example: personal projects websites (notes sharing, UI experiments and themes), some custom fixes to CMS-generated websites and so on.

As of today I still prefer using less libraries possible.

● HOBBIES AND INTERESTS

OpenSource & FreeSoftware

Started both as a necessity and curiosity soon I became a GNU/Linux enthusiast, embracing the FreeSoftware philosophy in any way possible, from work to everyday software.
I try promoting open software alternatives and almost all my code is public and with free licences.

Arts

I like experimenting with what I had trying to create something beautiful. Like I did with drawing, handmade jewelry, music player (some years in guitar school and other instruments basics are self-taught) and some experiences acting in the theater.

Technology & Innovation

I try to stay updated with latest technology both in consumer and prototypes both for personal interest and to be prepared to use them for work as tools or mediums.

Science & Philosophy

With scientific and humanistic background I really enjoy divulgative themes science in theoretical physics, math, computer-science and their philosophical implications as well as pure philosophy. Would be one of my goals to work with real scientists and use my creative skills to make divulgative science or philosophy more captivating.
